Education

2022-2025

Futuregames, Stockholm

Game Programmer

Since starting Futuregames, i have participated in a total of 4 group projects under a generalist programming role for each one. Two projects for Unreal and Unity respectively. Even though i had previous Unity and C# experience my skills has improved drastically since the start of this education. And for Unreal and C++ where i had barely no prior experience, i feel completely comfortable working with them and delivering finished, flexible and functional material as of now. Futuregames has helped me grow in almost every area. Not only when it comes to actual programming and engine knowledge, but also when it comes to collaborating in large groups on projects and using industry-standard tools to our advantage.

2020-2020

Nackademin, Stockholm

Network Security

I was at Nackademin for a short but sweet amount of time to learn how to navigate and command Powershell(Windows)/Bash(Ubuntu). This was taught as groundwork to manufacture network or data threats in order to understand how to prevent them.

2016-2017

Uppsala University, Gotland

Game Programming & Game Design

This was my first real step into pursuing a life in the game industry. During my time here i learned how to use Unity and C# to make games in a collaborative environment. Even though i didn't finish due to the theoretical nature of the education that didn't suit me, the knowledge i gained from it made it possible for me to collaborate on other projects and game jams over the following years that made it possible for me to later in life get into my dream education that is Futuregames.
